

The Due Diligence Team

The James Cowper team is led by Sue Staunton, who was formerly Client Service Director of Grant Thornton's National Technology Team and who has over 20 years of experience of advising clients on transactions.

The due diligence team has a further five partners with a high level of experience, supported by a team of qualified accountants.

Our technical capability means we are well able to consider complex international tax and VAT issues as well as more mainstream financial due diligence issues.

Recent Due Diligence Transactions

Assignments we have carried out in the last few months have included:

- Due Diligence on behalf of a major legal practice prior to merger with another significant firm
- Due Diligence for a national charity in preparation for its merger with another national charity
- Due Diligence for The Purchaser and funder of a hospitality business operating from key prestige locations and events such as Goodwood and Ascot.
- Second Due Diligence for a client in the automotive industry purchasing another manufacturing business to add to the groups portfolio.
- Due Diligence for a major bank in connection with significant restructuring exercise of a customer.
